Limitless Computing Announces SightSpace Free-D
*SightSpace Now Available in Four Languages

BOULDER, CO - November 28, 2012 - Limitless Computing Inc.[®], a leading provider of 3D mobile Augmented Reality, today announced that a free version of its groundbreaking SightSpace 3D model viewer with Augmented Reality capabilities is now available. Plus, SightSpace 3D and SightSpace Free-D can now be accessed in English, Spanish, French and Chinese.

The SightSpace 3D app enables mobile viewing of SketchUp designs, offering Augmented Reality capabilities, which overlay digital models over existing physical environments. Stereoscopic 3D is available while using Augmented Reality wearing 3D glasses. SightSpace 3D is integrated with the Trimble 3D Warehouse, opening up limitless possibilities. Educators can show famous buildings to students, furniture shoppers can see how pieces would look in their own homes and new countertops, appliances, and more can be viewed as if they were in one's own kitchen or bath.

“We have received several requests for localized versions of SightSpace, and are delighted to provide the app in four languages,” commented Dr. Errin T. Weller, president, Limitless Computing Inc. “And now anyone can see how fun and easy SightSpace is by experiencing up to three models at no charge, utilizing SightSpace Free-D.”

SightSpace Free-D is available now on the iTunes App Store. All of the capabilities of SightSpace 3D are available as in-app purchases so desired features can be customized, including a purchase for loading more models.
